

We applaud the State of Indiana and their program to eliminate or reduce unwanted telephone solicitation by various telemarketing companies. We signed up our parents on the first "No Call List" and they have been grateful. As older citizens, they do not need the harassment of unwanted telemarketers. I personally received a telemarketing call after the list had been established and was pleased with the State Attorney General's response to my complaint. The Indiana Telephone Privacy Law is excellent and should not be diminished in any way! After years of telemarketers interrupting meals and sleep, we finally have some peace and quiet! We would receive at least one call per day before the no call list and now we may receive one per month!!! Please do not implement any proposal to diminish the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law!!
